Sir,

Sub:- Buildings - Jail buildings - special sub jail, Mangalore - Improvements to the main gate.

I submit herewith for administrative approval an estimate amounting to Rs.5000/- together with a plan received from the Superintendent, Special Sub Jail, Mangalore for carrying out certain improvements to the main gate of the Special Sub Jail, Mangalore.

The Superintendent, Special Sub Jail, Mangalore states that the maingate has no roof and the warder in charge of the gate is exposed to sun and rain while on duty. Further the Rifles and ammunition are kept in the rooms on the verandah and the key box is fixed to the walls in the gate. It is easy for an outsider to climb over the outer gate, using the gate rivets and hasp as holds and gain entrance into the inner gate way. There is also no interview room to conduct interviews. If the main gate is provided with necessary roof, the existing verandah of the office room can be converted into an interview room after providing wire netting or expanded metal.

In the report accompanying the estimate the Executive Engineer states that both the inner and the outer maingates are exposed to the weather and great difficulty is being experienced by the warders and by the prisoners when they pass through the gate and as such a roofing for the passage and over the jails are very necessary. Scondly a separate interview room for prisoners is very essential.

In the circumstances stated above, I request that the improvements suggested both by the Superintendent and the Executive Engineer, may please be approved.

The expenditure involved in this work is debitable to Public Works.Department.

HOME (PRISONS III) DEPARTMENT

JAILS - Buildings - Special sub-jail, Mangalore - Improvements to the main gate.

From the I.G. of Prisons, Madras, No. 801/W2/50 dated 9-4-1951.

The Inspector-General of Prisons, Madras has forwarded for administrative approval of the Government an estimate for Rs. 5,000/- for carrying out certain improvements to the main gate of the Special Sub-jail Mangalore. The estimate provides for (1) the construction of an enclosure with masonry pillars and Mangalore tiled roofing to connect the inner and outer main gates and (2) the conversion of the verandah into a room.

2. It has been stated that both the inner and outer main gates of the Sub-jail are exposed to the weather, that great difficulty is experienced by the warders in charge of the main gates and by the prisoners in the rainy season while passing through them. The I.G. considers that a roofing for the passage and over the jail gates is very necessary.

3. The I.G. has also stated that when the main gate is provided with necessary roof, the existing verandah of the office room can be converted into an interview room after providing wire netting or expanded metal in. At present as there is no interview room in the Sub-jail, the prisoners are interviewed by their relatives through the Jailor's office window. The I.G. considers that a separate interview room is very essential.

4. In the circumstances stated above, this Department may support the I.G's proposal to carry out the improvements proposed to the Special Sub-jail, Mangalore at a cost of Rs 5000/-.

5. Public Works and Finance may see for remarks.

The case relates to the proposal to carry out certain improvements to the main gate of the special Sub-Jail, Mangalore at an estimated cost of Rs 5,000/-. It is stated in support of the proposal that a roofing for the passage and over the jail gates is very necessary as great difficulty is being experienced by the wardens in charge of the main gate and by the prisoners in the rainy season while passing through them. It is also stated that the rifles and ammunition are kept in the rooms on the verandah and the key box is fixed to the walls in the gate, which is very dangerous, for it is easy for an outsider to climb over the outer gate and gain entrance to the inner gate. It is further stated that a separate interview room is very essential, as there is no interview room at present and that the prisoners are interviewed by their relatives through the Jailor's office window. Home Dept. support the proposal.
